Senior Class History

Freshmen

In the fall of 1942, forty-three boys and girls started to high school. These made up the Freshmen Class. Before the end of the year the class had decreased somewhat. Many of the class took part in the events of the school, including sports, debate, etc. In the spring of 1943, the majority of the starting class were finishing their first year of high school.

Sophomore

Starting into the sophomore class, twenty of the forty-three freshmen showed up for their second year of high school. Still the sophomore class was in there "pitching", taking part in the activities of the school.

Junior

Jolly Juniors, eighteen of them, were just about holding their own in keeping their number. Again the Junior Class had taken part in the activities of the school. They were not to be followers, but the leaders.

Senior

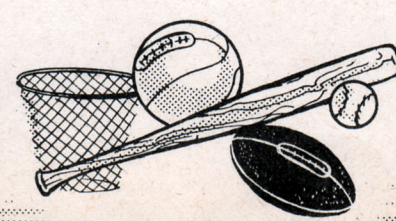

September 3, 1946. Eighteen boys and girls who four years ago had started to high school together were heading for the "last round-up."

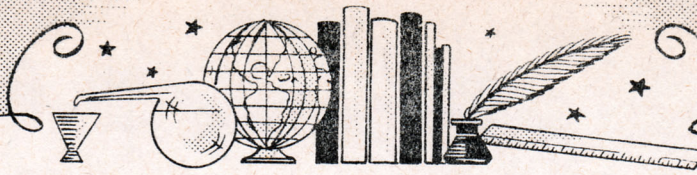

As this school year draws to a close, we of the Senior Class look backward over the years we have spent in Frenchburg School. Some may go to college, some will not; but wherever we go, or whatever we do, this group will keep the high standards we have shown in school.

- A.R. Little

Senior Personalities

Betty Abner - Her personality makes her success.
Gertrude Branham - A winning smile, a winning way.
Mildred Fitzpatrick - The patience of the Senior Class.
A.R. Little - Just a smile, just a song, joking merrily all day long.
Elinor Brown - Coming or going she is always the same.
Jerry Johnson - Always out for fun and frolic.
Betty Swimm - Come on, let's have some fun.
Chester Morrison - Floats through the air with the greatest of ease.
Edward Brown - Look out, He's going by.
Mary Landrum - I have lots of fun in Math. Class.
Ronald Whitaker - What goes on without Ronald?
Jerry Spradling - Crowd and Jerry, that makes fun.
Eddie Wilson - Sweet and dependable.
Mescal Kendrick - A voice that laughs, a voice that sings.
Doris Kendrick - Million dollar smile.
Alene Horn - Famous debater.
Roma Lee Highley - In everything she does, her mind drifts off to poetry.
Ruth Williams - Little and quiet but always there.

Senior Prophecy

On my return trip from Europe, I went around by India and whom do you think I met? Yes, right smack in Calcutta! Ronald Whitaker. You know he is a newspaper man. The daily paper was called "Frenchburg in Calcutta." Does he ever know the latest news! While Ronald was interviewing Madame Chiang Kai-shek, I passed the time by glancing through the paper. I'll let you in on how the Seniors of '46 changed the world to suit themselves.

I turned to the society page and there was Doris Kendrick's name. She's singing in the Metropolitan Opera in New York. She has just ruined Lily Pons! Oh! There's a new addition to the funny paper too. It's called "Dr. Abner call Surgery." Betty looked so glanorous in her doctor's uniform. Her favorite sport still is basketball and the lucky number is still 88. I read that the former Miss Branham, now Mrs Ratliffe, was driving her own limousine. She still sighs over auburn curly hair.

There's the cutest little red school house in Frenchburg. Betty Swimm is teaching special classes -- all about sailors. Let's go girls!!

I see that Hollywood's population has increased. A.R. Little is a noted playboy there now. You should see the beauties he escorts around, but out of them all, he has fallen for Judy Canova. (She has freckles too!) Ed. Brown and Van Johnson have exchanged places. We like Van but we miss Ed too. Chester Morrison is professor at a ladies' college, but wait, girls, only blondes are admitted. By the way, blondes, he's located in New York.

Much to my surprise Elinor Brown has bought all of Bing Crosby's race tracks. She has a host of admirers. Clark Gable is now a jockey-just for Elinor. My! My!

Roma Lee and Alene have their own college in Oregon. One of their famous Latin teachers is Mescal Kendrick -- the South American way!

Dorothy Lamour has retired and none other than Ruth Williams has taken her place. A wonderful career, Ruth, -- sarong and success! !

Jerry Johnson has a two-hour radio program each day just giving advice to the lovelorn. Keep up the good work, Jerry!

Eddle Wilson is a saleslady in Africa and those natives love her! I believe she sells nylon hose!

Mildred Fitzpatrick is running for president this next term. She's a Whig. She has promised to pass a bill that school kids may chew gum!

Mary Landrum has taken the place of a calculating machine. How that girl figures! She's rather famous too. Oh! That Math!!

The European trip was wonderful but it feels good to come back to the small city of Frenchburg and relax.

-- Cerry Spradling

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1946, do make this our last will and testament:

Betty Abner wills her ability to make A's to Ronald Kendrick.
Gertrude Branham leaves her habit of studying to Betty Byrd.
Edward Brown wills his height to Mrs. Hughes.
Elinor Brown leaves her loud voice to Lodema Botts.
Mildred Fitzpatrick wills her ability to whisper and get by to Willodene Alfry.
Doris Kendrick wills her piano ability to Miss Larsen.
Mescal Kendrick wills to Mr. Gathman her ability to argue.
Mary Landrum wills to Rodney Williams her A's in deportment.
A.R. Little wills his double negatives to Miss Warnock.
Chester Morrison wills his ability as president to Elwood Peck.
Gerry Spradling wills to Mrs. Guthrie her sense of humor.
Betty Swimm wills her pigtails to Irene Denniston.
Ronald Whitaker wills his Latin book to Mrs. Cowden for safe keeping.
Ruth Williams wills her home room seat to J.B. Amburgey.
Eddie Wilson wills her quietness to David Rothwell.
Alene Honn wills her ability to write poetry to Ellen DeRossett.
Rome Lee Highley leaves her million dollar smile to Rosemary Kendrick.

School Days

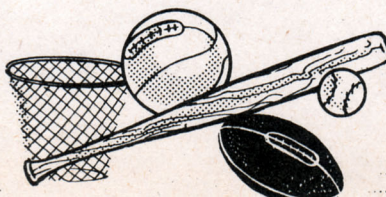

Back in the fall of '42,
Forty-three Freshmen, green,
Strolled through the halls of F.H.S.
An awful sight to be seen.

The next year we were sophomores,
As silly as could be.
Our number had grown smaller
As you could plainly see.

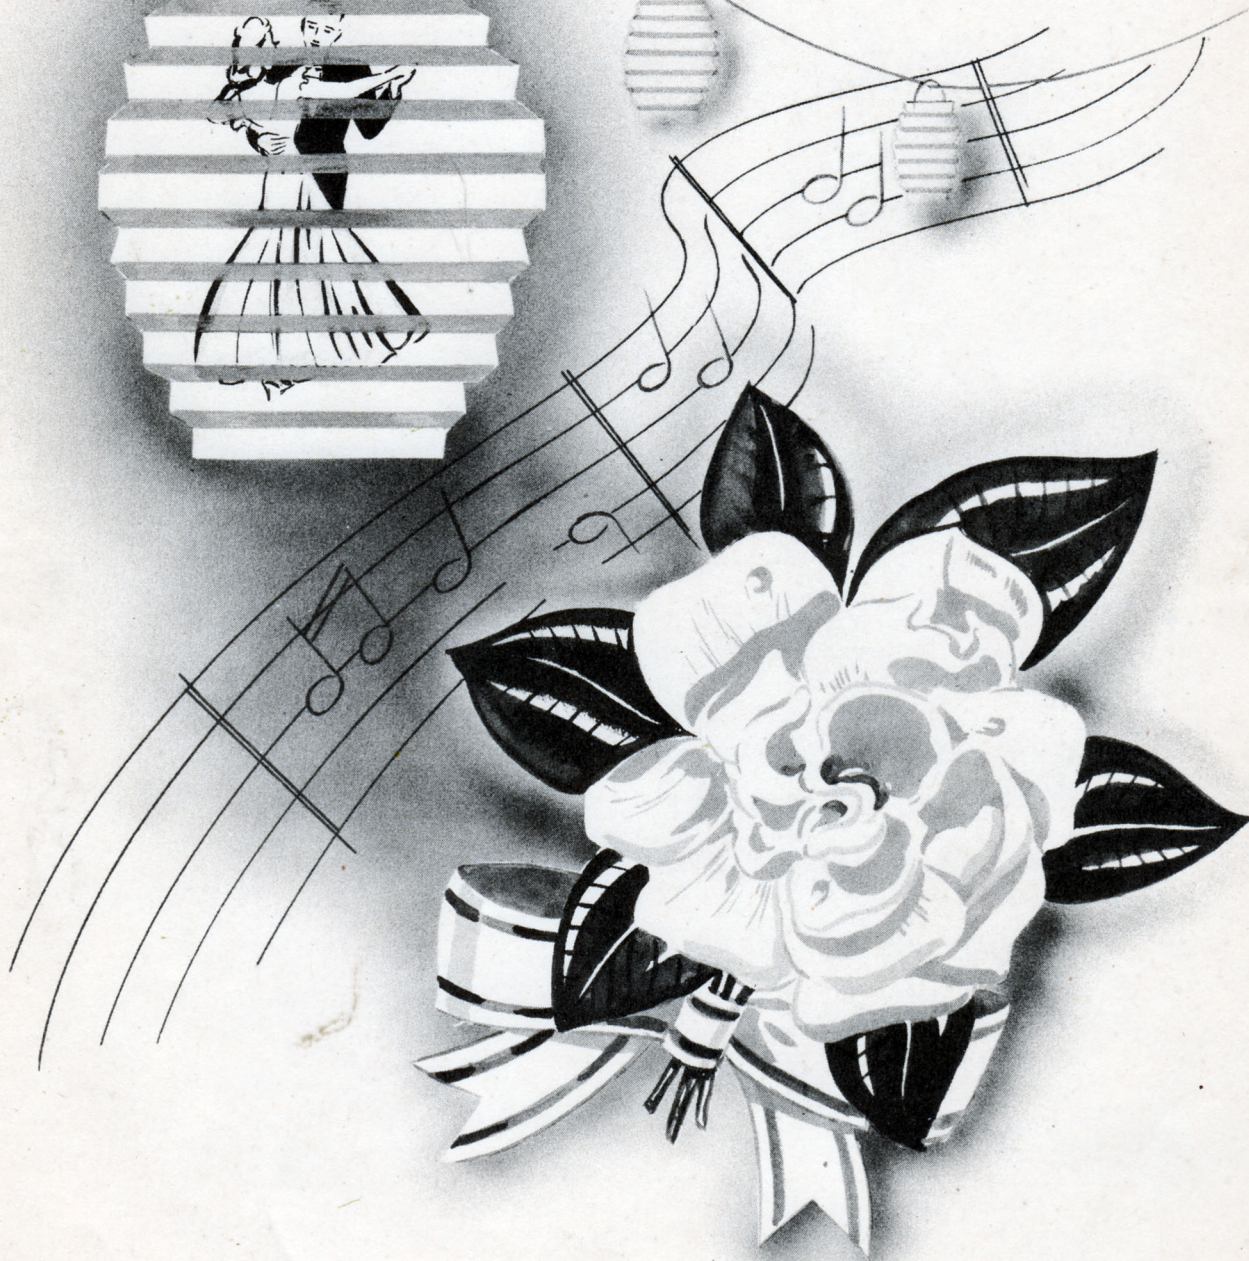

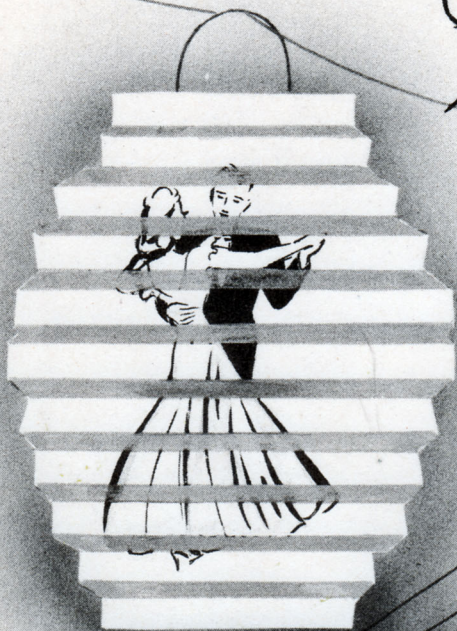

Then came our Junior year,
With laughter, books, and song.
Soon we will be Seniors,
Oh, Boy! It won't be long.

Now we are Seniors,
And soon will have to leave;
But please don't act so sorry,
We don't want to see you grieve.

Junior Class History

The fall of '42 found thirty green Freshmen eager to start their high school career. Many have fallen by the wayside thinking the goal not worthy or too far off. The present class consists of seventeen of the jolliest juniors that a person has ever known.

Our Freshmen year we were as green as the class before us, but we soon got "broke-in." We stayed one evening after school and elected our class officers. There were Donald Slusher, president; Eugene Brewer, vice-president; and Lois Osborne, secretary and treasurer. We were represented in basketball by Donald Slusher, Eugene Brewer, and Bill Klaber.

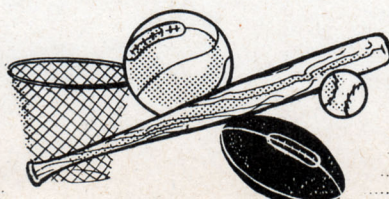

Our Sophomore year we were about ten short of the beginning of the Freshmen year, but we made up in quality what we lacked in quantity. Bill Klaber acted as president with Don Slusher assisting as the vice-president. Lois Osborne continued as the efficient secretary. Our basketball players were the same. We had musicians in the class as well as athletes for nine of our group played in the orchestra.

Our Junior year found about the same crew at school. We were eager to see all our friends and classmates, but not so eager to start studying. We "buckled down" and have been just as smart as ever. Don Slusher and J.B. Amburgey were on the basketball team. Don had the honor of receiving the most votes in the conference for the All Conference team. Lula Little was one of our cheerleaders. Several helped out in the orchestra again.

I'm sure by next year that we will be one of the most outstanding graduating classes that have ever been graduated from Frenchburg High School!

Here We Are!

J.B. Amburgey - - He'd make a good lawyer.
Willodene Alfry - - Loves to entertain her neighbors in home room.
Harold Bowman - - Future Latin professor.
Phyllis Crain - - Likes her gum.
Tom Craft - - Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well.
Irene Denniston - - Sees only what goes on between the book covers.
James Day - - Arguing is his favorite hobby.
Eula Lee Downs - - If you want anything well done, do it yourself.
Veneda Hall - - That little grey convertible sure takes her eye.
Lula Little - - Never has a serious thought - - or does she?
Elsie Landrum - - Always smiles.
Bob McCarty - - Nothing succeeds like success.
Jean Profit - - Future jailor's wife.
Stella Raney - - Don't turn back when you're just at the goal.
Duck Slusher - - Get's by the easiest way he can.
Lillian Williams - - Donnie's shadow

That Spectacular Sophomore Class

No doubt everybody knows that our sophomore class has a pretty good live wire system. It is very magnetic! This past year we have almost doubled our amount of students from the number we had last year. Although some of us do not make as much static as others, all in all, we do our share to make our sophomore class what it is. Might I mention those who make up this system?

Reva Collins - - When two red beards meet - - Watch out!
Olema Hale - - Debater or opera singer, which will it be?
Doris Byrd - - From Brooklyn way down to Frenchburg to take our Check's heart!
Hazel Powers - - Oh Johnny Oh!
Patty Cannoy - - Ease and Might roam the campus.
Rodney Williams - - Dayton or Mariba. Where does his heart lie?
Wilma Egleston - - "So-long, Charlie".
Milton Cassity - - You can always depend on a laugh when Milton is around.
Kenny Montgomery - - From "The women don't understand me" to "I love 'em all."
Marvin Smallwood - - Brains and debate mix well.
Ralph Cannoy - - Gum essays his pastime?
Florence Fitzpatrick - - Everybody's friend.
Wanda Bryant - - Those brown eyes speak for themselves.
Richard Johnson - - If freckles were money, he would be rich.
J.S. Rhodes - - Easy does it.
Virginia Ann Day - - Tar Ridge's strawberry blonde.
Edna Hughes - - From racing, we've learned to take the noontime stroll.
David Rothwell - - Spark in sophomore's Live Wire System.
Miriam Whitaker - - Can conquer some difficulties but can't seem to conquer sleep in Geometry class.
Helen Browning - - One half.
Marie Smallwood - - Other half.
Elwood Peck - - What's the rush? There's not any hurry.
Dilmond Lawson - - DoA's get monotonous?
Sarah Spradling - - I'm forever blowing bubbles.
Rosemary Kendrick - - Speed Limit - - 1000 words per minute.
Mildred Whitt - - Sugar may be rationed, but she's still sweet.
Kenny Hall - - Laugh and the class laughs with him.
Wanda Back - - Belle of Stone Quarry.
Phyllis Thomas - - Climbing the ladder of success.
Jewel Smith - - She likes some Wells down Big Woods' Way.
Lucretia Mynhier - - Dixie Gal!
Olene Wynn - - Will she settle in Scranton?
Fran Northcutt - - Northcutt now but not forever.
Maxine Profit - - Short Hard to beat
Joyce Mack - - Sweet
Ellen DeRossett - - Out door girl.
Vada Steele - - Girl with a future.
Velma Sargent - - Smile and the world smiles with you.
Florence Lane - - A lane within sophomore class.
Betty Lane - - Her eyes are bright as diamonds and her hair as black as jet.
Ruby Cornwell - - Cornwell's special.
Elma Wilson - - Hobby: horseback riding and sewing.
Margaret Galasso - - Margaret and her voice - - all in one girl!
Lodema Botts - - Silent often, friendly always.
Opal Spencer - - Quiet but sure.

Freshmen Class History

In the fall of 1945, forty bright and shining faces appeared as members of the freshmen class. All were eager for knowledge and have drunk deeply from the fountain of knowledge. Just watch us and see how radiant our countenances will be by 1949! All groups find it best to have chosen leaders. This group chose Norma Little as president, Meryl Cope as vice-president, Carlene Bates as secretary, and Jean Brewer as treasurer. Not only do we have fine leaders, but a lot of very fine students. Want to meet them?

H.C. Pugh-- Generally talks rapidly.
Stanley Thomas - - Strictly a woman lover.
Fred Tanner - - Thinks three times before he speaks."
Meryl Cope - - Down in the dumps, but wait until Heizer comes along.
Ronald Kendrick - - Crazy 'bout them blondes.
Virginia Toliver - - Forever busy, chattering.
Carlene Bates - - She mows them down with those beautiful eyes.
Norma Powers - - Oh! I love that man.
Wilma Armitage - - She's right in the mood for flirting.
Aileen Back - - Quiet and a new addition to our class.
Pauline Brown - - Expert at working button holes.
Opal Reffitt - - Got what it takes to get those A's, especially in Algebra.
Freda Ingram - - Frenchburg's glamour-puss special.
Betty Byrd - - Ambition: gum chewing stenographer.
Betty Thomas - - Bright metal all without alloy.
Donnie Montgomery - - He loves basketball but hates book reports and oral topics.
Randolph Mann - - May someday find Algebra useful to him but he doubts it.
Imogene Askins - - A green freshmen if you didn't care what you say.
Jean Brewer - - I suppose it's just natural for Jean to like Genes - -
Gene Little no exception.
Wilma Terrell - - She likes them tall, dark, and gruesome.
Beatrice Moore - - Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well.
Bessie Thomas - - Fair, kind, and free in all her arguments.
Herald Ratliff - - Curls! Curls! Girls just naturally love curls!
Norma Little - - Better watch out! Lyons are dangerous!
Inez Landrum - - Deep waters run quietly.
Ruth Williams - - Klüber is it!
Nella Raney - - Brown eyes, laughing smile, into all that's going!
Leon Sorrell - - What's the rush? There's no hurry.
Ophay Trimble - - She has proved her worth.

Basketball

Frenchburg had a victorious season! There were twenty five games during the season and out of that number we claimed twenty one. Not bad, is it? Say "we" won the games, because not only the boys play hard, but the cheer leaders really lent a helping hand. They were Doris Byrd, Patty Cannoy, and Lulu Little. My, What lungs! ! The cheering section was usually filled to capacity. At least one bus would bring students for the games and more often there would be two or three bus loads to help make the cheering section merry. Nor did the cheerleaders and cheering section alone furnish all the noise for Mr. Cowden did his share over on the bench. If anyone wants a good "rib poking" just sit by Mr. Cowden. Proof? Ask Red Henry!

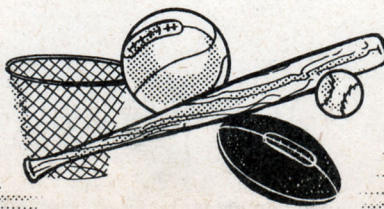

The team got a new coach in the person of Maxwell "Red" Henry, who had just been discharged from the army after three years of service. Under his leadership, the team soon began to look as if it would have one of the best seasons it had ever had. When the time actually arrived to play the first game, scarlet fever hit Frenchburg and some of the boys were sick, or quarantined. This weakened the team and we lost the first three games. After the third defeat, which was at Ezel-- a team that had not beaten us for several years--, the boys really got started. We went on through the season winning nearly every game. The boys beat West Liberty which hadn't been accomplished for four or five years. Sometimes our games were won only by a point or two, and in the games with Sandy Hook and Salyersville, they had to play two overtimes in order to get that coveted lead.

The second team, though at first it didn't seem to be "hitting" very well, soon began to make people sit up and take notice. J.B. Amburgey, Milton Cassity, Bob Cowden, Maurice Perkinson, Ralph Cannoy, and David Rothwell comprised the second team players at the beginning of the season. They were later reinforced by Herald Ratliff. He lacked height and weight but soon made up for that in speed and pluck. Later Gene Little, who played with Ezel in the 44-45 season, joined the second team and he proved to be a fine contribution.

The first team boasted Donald Slusher, Chester Morrison, A.R. Little, Kenny and Donnie Montgomery, and Rodney Williams. To our sorrow, two of the top first team players will not be back with us next year. They are Chester Morrison and A .R. Little who will be graduated in May.

For the tournament at West Liberty, we drew Salyersville. Our boys had won over them twice before--once on our home floor by two points and once on their floor by one point in an overtime game. "Old Lady Luck" seemed to be against us, for when the final whistle had blown, Frenchburg had lost the game by a few points. Although Frenchburg did lose their first game in the tournament, it still received a great honor in that Donald Slusher, center and captain, was voted the best all around player of the 60th. District.

The 1945-46 Basket ball season at Frenchburg School is one that will long be remembered!

Orchestra

The school orchestra which was organized last year is proving to be a real success. Only seventeen of last year's members were able to be back with the orchestra again this year, but that did not discourage the ones who were here one bit. They continued working hard, as they had done the year before, anxiously looking forward to the concert they would present in the spring.

There were seventeen students who, last fall, made known their desire to play an instrument so new instruments and music were purchased for them. They, together with the older members, make up an orchestra of thirty-four who are students from the sixth through the twelfth grades. Both groups have been working very diligently all year. We had definite proof of this fact when we attended the concert presented at the gymnasium May 17th. The following selections were on their program:

Blue Waves - - Waltz
Plantation Echoes-- Selections
Finlandia-- Sibelius
March Teamwork - - Riddle

The orchestra also played for the May Day program. Several have favored us by playing solos for various programs during the year.

We wish to express our deep appreciation to all of those who have made this orchestra possible, and especially are we greatly indebted to Miss Hay for the marvelous work she has done. We hope the orchestra will continue to progress as it has done in its two years of history.

Vocal

While the orchestra has successfully proved it can produce some good music, we have also learned there are some very fine voices in Frenchburg. In April the High School Girl's Glee Club presented a concert which consisted of the following selections.

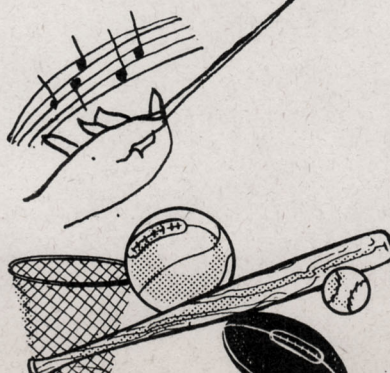

Thanks Be To God -- Dickson
Green Cathedral---- Hahn
In The Heart of the Hills -- Malone
Tom, Tom the Piper's Son --- High

We were very proud to have seven entries in the regional contest held at Morehead, April 27th.

Vocal Solos
Helen Browning, Margaret Galasso, Bob McCarty, Ronald Whitaker
Girls' Trio
Geraldine Johnson, Doris Kendrick, Mescal Kendrick
Cello Solo
Bob Cowden

Mrs. Cowden was our accompanist for all the soloists and the glee club. Miss Hay was director of all the music activities.

Frenchburg School has realized it can gain a real joy from music.

Allied Youth

The Allied Youth is a branch of a national organization which has for its aim the education of the members as to the harmful effects of alcohol. Along with the educational programs, the group is also interested in providing recreation to take the place of the drinking parties and type of entertainment which have become so common.

Forensic

The F.H.S. Forensic group did not get very far this year. In debate we participated with Oil Springs, Mt. Sterling, Orangeburg, Winchester, and Georgetown. The negative team of Alene Honn and Ronald Whitaker, with Olema Hale substituting, won five out of seven debated. One affirmative team of Olema Hale and Nella Raney won one debate.

In other Forensic Groups Alene Honn rated fair in oratory at the District Contest at Morehead; Ronald Whitaker placed good in discussion; Mescal Kendrick placed good and Geraldine Johnson placed good in Dramatic Reading; Doris Kendrick placed fair in poetry reading; and Milton Cassity placed good in radio speaking.

A Forensic rally was held at Flemingsburg on February 23rd. and our students participated.

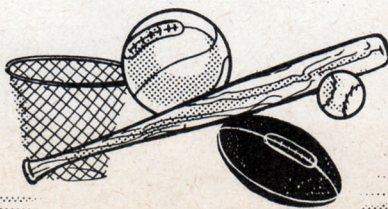

We are planning on better luck next year.

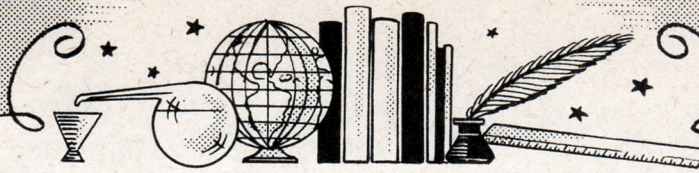

Folk Games

Those in the folk game group met about two or three times each week to play games and to learn new ones. Our director during this time was Miss Moore. During the last week before the Folk Festival at Berea Miss Marvel, a game director from Berea, helped us learn some new games. On May 12th. and 13th. four girls and eight boys represented our school at the festival. These were Betty Abner, Geraldine Johnson, Doris Kendrick, Ruth Williams, Harold Bowman, Ralph Cannoy, Milton Cassity, Ronald Kendrick, Kenny Montgomery, David Rothwell, Ronald Whitaker, and Rodney Williams.

4-H Club

The 4-H Club is doing very fine work. Mr. Besco and Mr. Gathman are the sponsors. The officers are; President-Ralph Cannoy, Secretary- Carolyn Spencer, Song Leaders: Roberta Cannoy and Eva Banfield.

Brownies

Under the leadership of Brownowl, Miss Andrews, and Tawnyowl, Miss Flack, ten little girls are being real Brownies in every way.

The troop meets each week to participate in some activity outlined by their leaders. We enjoy hikes and parties in which each girl has an active part.

Every Brownie tries hard each day to live up to her Brownie Promise: I will do my best to help other people every day, especially those at home.

Boy Scouts

We are very proud of the accomplishments of the boy scouts. There are nine boys and Mr. Gathman is the leader. Fred Tanner is eligible for Star Scout. Harold Bowman and Bob Cowden are first class scouts. The other six are second class scouts. During the spring vacation the boys went on a camping trip on Levee Pike near Mt. Sterling.

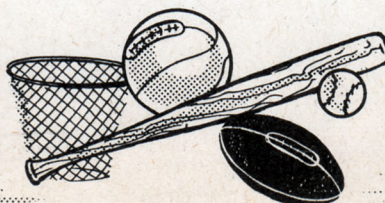

Girl Scouts

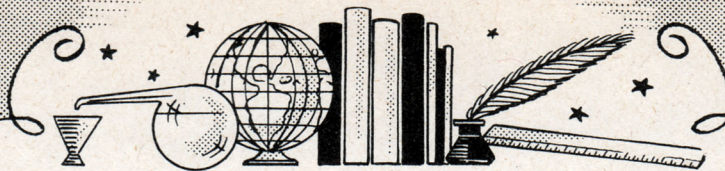

Each Wednesday Twenty-eight lively, enthusiastic girls meet with their leaders- Captain Andrews, Lt. Burrows, and Lt. Larsen- for their Girl Scout Meeting.

The year has been full of fun and activities. At the Court of Honor at Christmas time, eleven girls received their second class badges and one girl her first class badge. Since that time they have been working for merit badges. The rest of the girls are working on requirements for tenderfoot or second class.

The highlights of the year have been the winter Court of Honor and banquet in the spring. The three day camp excursion to be held at the close of school is awaited with a great deal of anticipation.

Hikes, parties for the senior patrol, caroling at Christmas time, campfires, singing, and playing together have made a happy year in scouts for all 28 girls and 3 leaders.

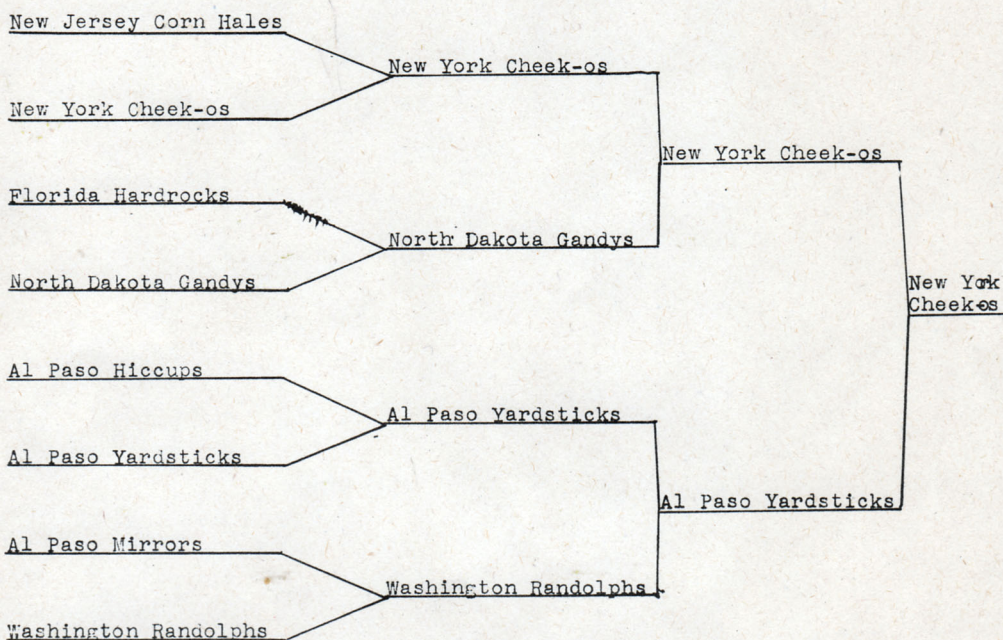

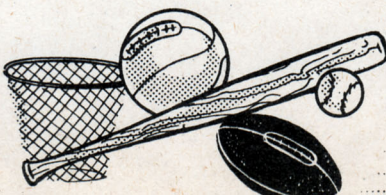

After School Activities!

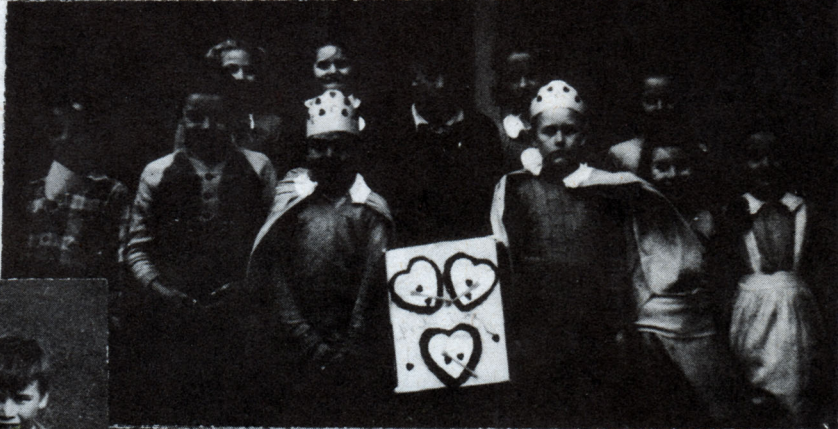

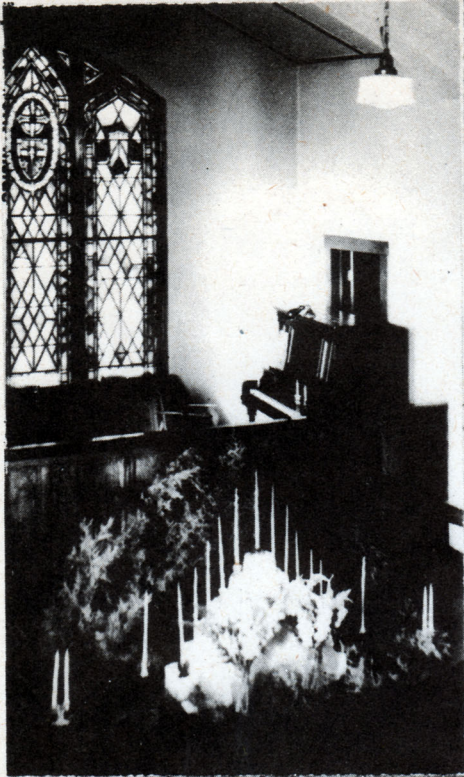

One member of our illustrious class (he's our star basketball player) is ambition personified! He was so fond of making out tournament lists that he spent school time doing so. Because his teacher enjoyed them so much, she had him make pages of them after school. We think they are of an unusual quality and hereby submit one to you for your enjoyment. (All right, Donnie?)

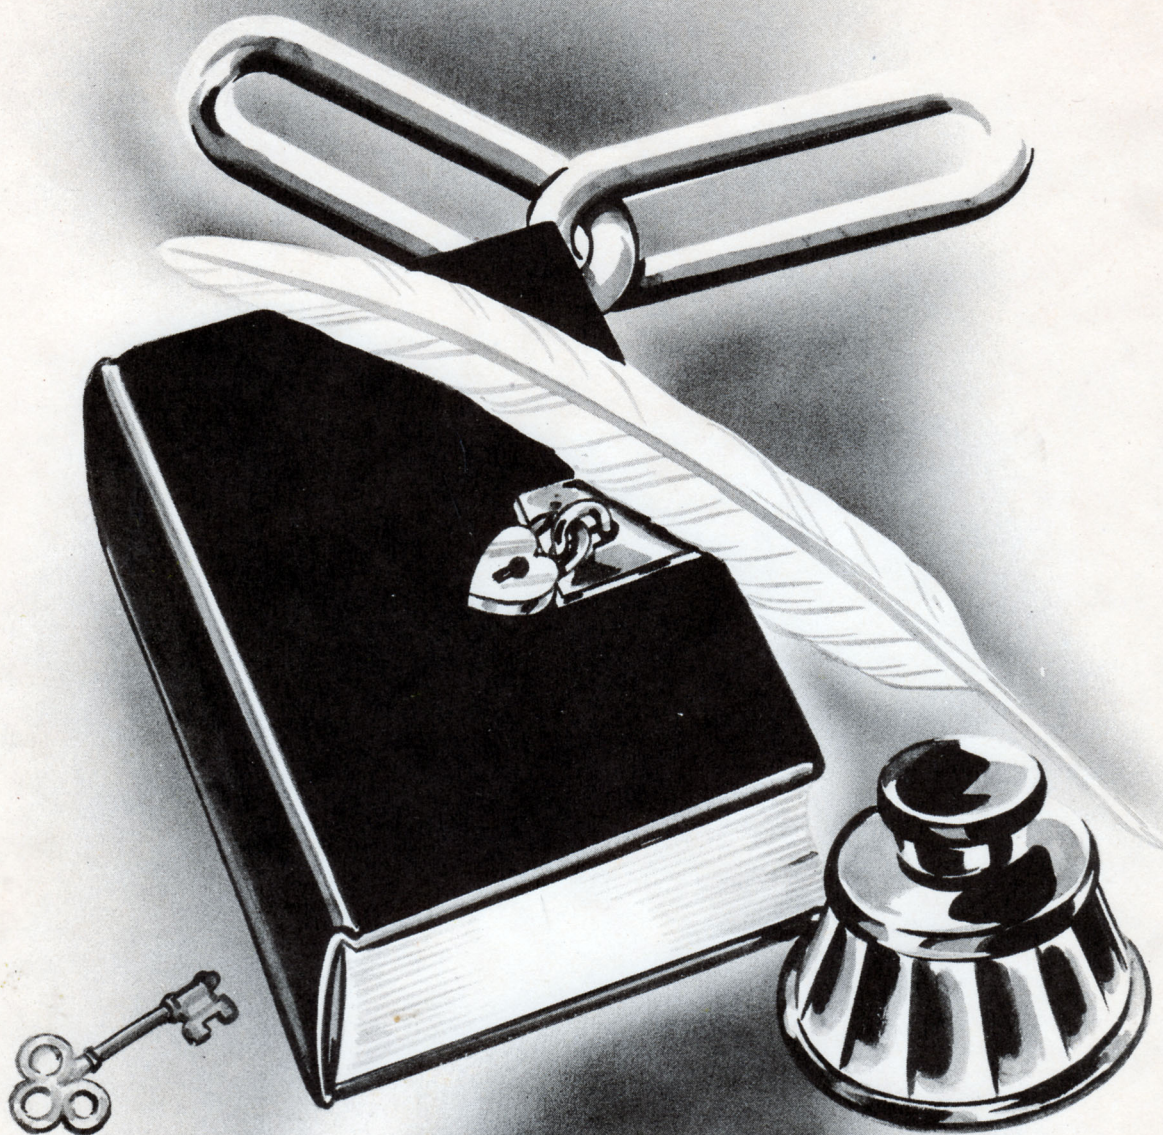

Universe Tournament

The trophy is two and a half times as big as the Statue of Liberty and covers fourteen city blocks!
